Elevra Announces Transformational Financing Package to Accelerate Growth

North American lithium producer Elevra Lithium Limited (“Elevra” or the “Company”) (ASX: ELV; NASDAQ: ELVR) is pleased to announce a transformational financing package of up to A$441 million in aggregate, comprising:

1. Fully underwritten A$275 million institutional placement (before costs) (the “Placement”);
2. A$146 million (C$145 million) strategic Convertible Notes investment by Canada Growth Fund (“CGF”) (the “Convertible Notes”), together the “Strategic Financing Package”; and
3. A non-underwritten Share Purchase Plan (“SPP”) offered to eligible existing shareholders targeting to raise up to A$20 million (before costs).

The Strategic Financing Package is intended to provide full funding certainty for the Company’s staged, accelerated North American Lithium (“NAL”) Brownfield Expansion and to fund key Moblan pre-development workstreams through to Financial Investment Decision (“FID”), while enhancing balance sheet flexibility during a transformational growth period.

Highlights

- Equity raising comprising a fully underwritten A$275 million Placement plus SPP to raise up to a further A$20 million (“Equity Raising”)
- CGF to also invest A$146 million (C$145M) via the issue of Convertible Notes (across two tranches)
- Net proceeds to be applied to Stages 1–3 of the NAL Brownfield Expansion, full funding of key Moblan technical and pre-development activities through to FID, transaction costs and additional liquidity and growth funding

Strategic Rationale

The Strategic Financing Package has been structured to provide Elevra with a high degree of funding certainty and balance sheet flexibility through a transformational phase of growth. Together, the fully underwritten Placement, strategic Convertible Notes investment and SPP will fully fund the NAL Brownfield Expansion project, alongside fund key Moblan technical and pre-development activities through to FID while maintaining prudent liquidity and optionality through market cycles.

Importantly, the NAL expansion will deliver accelerated production growth, improving mill throughput and driving meaningful unit cost reductions. This investment underpins Elevra’s transition towards a lower cost, resilient, sustainable, and globally relevant lithium producer, enhancing cash flow generation and competitiveness across a range of lithium price environments.

The financing also strengthens Elevra’s balance sheet during a period of significant capital deployment, ensuring sufficient flexibility to manage construction risk, commodity price volatility and working capital requirements. In parallel, it delivers full funding certainty for critical Moblan technical and pre-development workstreams through to a FID, positioning the project for disciplined progression towards development.

The participation of Canada Growth Fund (CGF) in the Convertible Notes establishes a strategic partnership and represents a strong validation of Elevra's assets and growth strategy. CGF's investment demonstrates meaningful Canadian stakeholder support for the Company's operations and long-term contribution to North America's critical minerals supply chain.

Commenting on the transaction, Yannick Beaudoin, President and Chief Executive Officer of Canada Growth Fund Investment Management Inc. ("CGFIM") said:

"One of CGF's core objectives is to capitalize on Canada's abundance of natural resources while supporting projects that mobilize private capital. By supporting the staged expansion of Canada's largest operating lithium mine, this proposed investment reinforces Canada's role in the North American battery materials value chain and supports jobs and industrial competitiveness in Québec."

Elevra Managing Director and CEO Lucas Dow said:

"This financing marks a key inflection point for Elevra, delivering full funding certainty across the three stages of the NAL Brownfield Expansion while preserving balance sheet flexibility at a critical point in our growth trajectory. With strong strategic support from Canada Growth Fund, we are well positioned to execute our near-term growth plans, materially increasing production scale while reducing unit costs. Together with advancing Moblan toward development, this transaction sets the stage to fundamentally reshape Elevra into a larger, more resilient, globally competitive lithium producer."
