Mr Michael Davy, Chairman of Raiden commented: "The field verification of identified targets at Arrow will aim to prioritise targets and assess their respective potential for hosting substantial gold mineralisation. Due to good outcrop exposure across the Project area, it is expected that the underlying geology and structure can be observed, which will greatly aid in tying in the geophysical interpretations. Prospect level mapping will be conducted to update our geophysical interpretation, providing further context for the targets delineated to date. Updates will be provided to the market upon completion of the program."

Field Program

Following the geophysical targeting exercise on the Arrow project, which delineated six intrusion targets, the Company has commenced with a field reconnaissance program across the project. The objective will be to conduct ground verification, mapping and outcrop sampling over each of the prospective target areas. The field program will include surveying of the historical open pits at Mt Sholl Ni-Cu-PGE Project.

Based on the outcome of the field programs, the Company will refine its budget and work programs for further and systematic exploration.

The Company is also pleased to advise that the proposed Pilbara Gold Corporation acquisition and associated due diligence exercise is progressing well and that it expects to complete the transaction in December, ahead of the anticipated 31st January 2021 completion deadline.
